While blockbuster shows abound in New York this month, the city's galleries are also fertile ground for finding fresh works by younger generations of artists. From impressive solos by N. Dash and Eva Kotátková, to a group show dedicated to China's youngest generation of artists, below we highlight 21 shows that should not be missed this May.

Objects like a black lacquer bowl and a bronze bell in Lichy's new show may appear to be nondescript objects or readymades, but they are in fact commissions by craftsmen who are highly skilled at bell-making, lacquer-working, taxidermy, and woodworking. Lichy incorporates these traditional methods to create enigmatic, conceptual objects including a taxidermy python moving through a brass ring, and clenching another in its mouth.
